

FROM PARTY POOPER TO PARTY HARDY

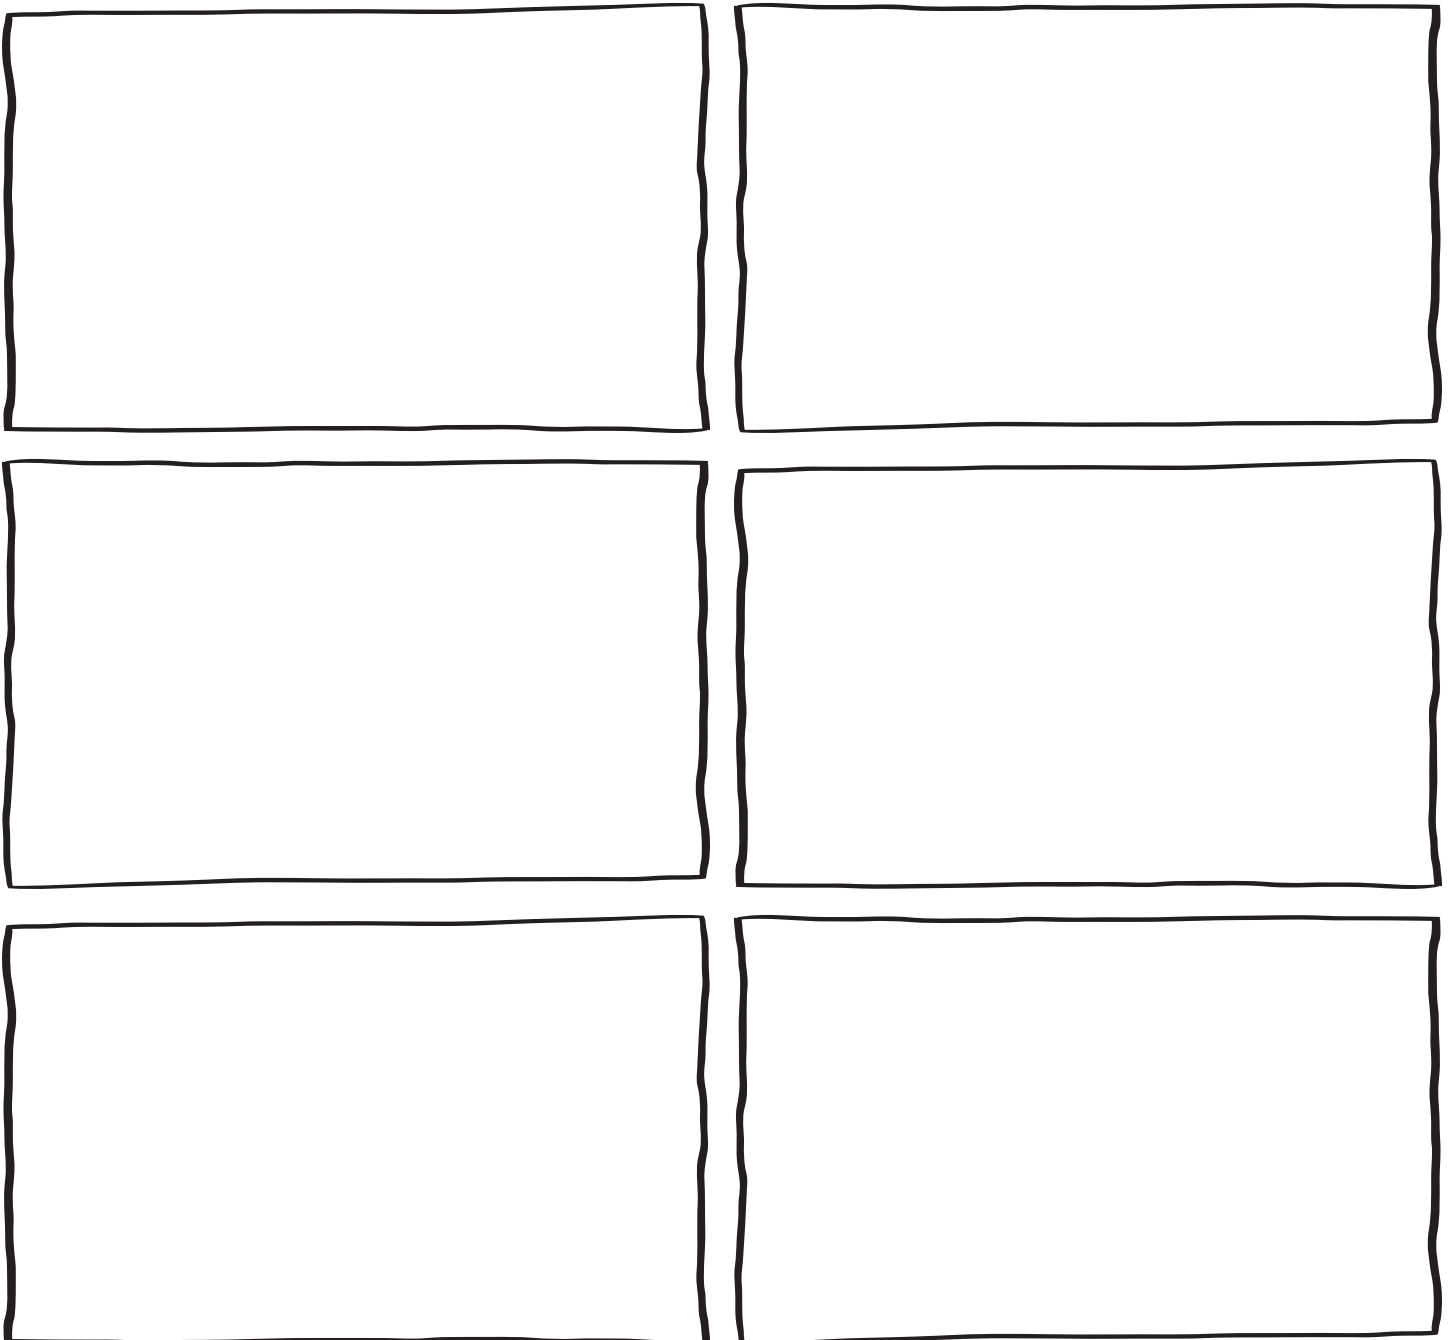

We've all had difficult experiences at parties. Some more than others (hi, Ed!). Have some goofy fun by making a Party Pooper comic strip of a previous party that went wrong for you. Maybe you just felt awkward. Maybe something went horribly wrong. Either way, we'd like you to capture it and have a chuckle about it. Then, on the next page, give yourself a do-over!

PARTY POOPER

A 3x2 grid of six empty comic panels, each with a hand-drawn, slightly irregular border. The panels are arranged in three rows and two columns, providing space for drawing a comic strip.

Now that you've had a therapeutic giggle about your past experience, it's time to re-write the comic. Instead of being the Party Pooper, transform yourself into Party Hardy! Maybe you change your positioning at the party. Maybe you tell a joke that makes everyone laugh. Maybe you change the way you hear other people's comments. Whatever the case, turn yourself into a Party Hardy hero.

PARTY HARDY!
